President's Message

By: Carla Drager

Welcome ASHRAE members. It is springtime at last. Time to get out and enjoy that fresh air, assuming you can still breathe through all of the dust and snow mold allergies.

The calendar invitations have gone out for our Chapter Meeting this month. Please be sure to RSVP by April 15 (or April 18 at the very latest) to ensure we have an accurate count for dinner. This month is our student night so please come out and support our brilliant U of R engineering students as they present their capstone projects. Along with these great presentations, we will also have a chance to meet our ASHRAE president, Mick Schwedler, in person, and listen to his presidential presentation. We have a big line up and I hope we can get our dedicated Regina members out to welcome our president. Please note that the exact location of the meeting is still to be updated but it will be located on campus at the University of Regina. Watch for that update in the calendar invite.

Regina Chapter invoices have gone out so please take a look and pay those dues. If you have any questions or issues paying, please don't hesitate to reach out to me or our treasurer, Tyler Gamble.

Our ASHRAE CRC is coming up next month on May 5 through 7. There are a bunch of great events outside of the caucus and business sessions, including

This month's meeting will be full of presentations as we are having two U of R student groups present their capstone projects (ice hockey table and energy audit), and ASHRAE President Mick Schwedler is back in person to make his Presidential Address. Mick was scheduled to be in Regina earlier this year in January, but COVID had other plans. We were still able to have a virtual meeting, with Mick presenting his Distinguished Lecture on "Building Decarbonization".

Mick's Presidential theme for the 2021-2022 ASHRAE Society year is "Personal Growth. Global Impact. Feed the Roots." Schwedler's theme focuses on the impact of connections to foster personal and professional growth and how ASHRAE's historical and present-day structure continues to lead to the development of future industry professionals that impact the world.

"How did you get here today and become part of this expansive root system? Who helped you grow, encouraged you – that is, who 'fed your roots?'"

Collectively, our personal growth and united efforts have produced global impacts...to serve humanity...the first three words on ASHRAE’s mission.”

He also stresses the importance and responsibility each of us has as he asks, “Whose roots will you feed in the next three months?”
